

Tour “Kakheti – the treasury of Georgian wine” presented by Caucasus Event company

Caucasus Event, a MICE/DMC agency is pleased to offer you a fam trip with review of main MICE venues in Kakheti.

All colors and originality of Georgia are truly revealed in the region trips where you can get acquainted with the tradition of wine making – one of the country symbols. Neat vineyards, fertile fields and warm climate of Kakheti will give unforgettable impressions and understanding of distinctive character, soul and opportunities of the region.

At 15:00 we are going east. Our first destination is Tsinandali winery, which is located at the prominent Chavchavadze family estate. We'll visit Alexander Chavchavadze museum where we'll plunge into the world of high society customs of the XVIII century.

Kilometers long wine cellars and the unique enotec of this winery deserve high respect. And of course we are going to taste wine. White, red, green and black – 5 different varieties of Georgian wines will be offered to us in a cozy tasting room. And most importantly we'll learn how correctly to taste and discover the wines of Georgia.

That's the custom in Georgia not to reject the invitation to visit, so we are going to the peasant farming where the wine is made in clay jars in old Kakhetian way and chacha is made at the home mini-factory.

Here we'll have a master class on baking the real Kakhetian “Mother's bread” and we'll make churchkhela, a Georgian dessert made of grape juice and nuts, sometimes called “Georgian snickers”. And then we'll have dinner right near the vineyards with Georgian songs. We'll be served with a famous Kakheti shashlik and house wine.

On the second day after a homemade breakfast we'll go to Gremi. The fortress Gremi is all that remains of the ancient city. Gremi was the capital of this region for almost 100 years.

Our next destination is a town of Signagi. One of the attractions of the city is the second-largest defensive wall in the world after the Great Chinese Wall. Niko Pirosmani – the most famous realist artist lived in Signagi. He is the prototype of the famous Soviet song “One million crimson roses”. A glass of house wine and lunch with fascinating views on the Alazani valley will be the brilliant end of our trip.
